

FINANCIAL AID UPDATES – FALL 2011

GETTING STARTED

The Financial Aid application process is now open for the school year 2012-2013. Here are three things you can do now.

Begin your application.

We recommend that you begin your application on line now by going to <http://sss.nais.org/parents>. There is so much on the application you already know, why not get started. You can save your application and return to it as often as you like to update until you are ready to submit. The final submission for the application is February 1, 2012. The tax returns are due to SSS by February 17, 2012.

Make an appointment with your tax consultant

Signed, submitted tax returns for 2011 are due no later than February 17, 2012. This means you will need to have your information prepared well in advance so your accountant has sufficient time to prepare and file the return before deadline. If this is your first year applying for financial aid you are required to submit your 2010 tax returns to the Rashi Business Office, attention Courtney Garcia, Controller. You may do this anytime before deadline. All financial aid information is confidential.

Inform yourself about financial aid

There is an summary of the Rashi financial aid process on the Rashi website at <http://rashi.org/admissions/tuition.php>.

There is information about financial aid in general on the SSS website and at http://admin.nais.org/files/NAIS_SSS_ElectronicFamilyGuide.pdf.

If you have further questions about financial aid please contact Barbara Ross, Director of Finance and Operations at brross@rashi.org.